Dermatology Grand Rounds:

Diagnostic and Therapeutic Challenges in Nail Disorders

Phoebe Rich, MD
Adjunct Professor of Dermatology and
Director of the Nail Disorder Clinic at Oregon Health & Science University
Private Practice and Clinical Research, Portland Oregon

Audience: Dermatologists, Pathologists, Residents, Fellows, Nurse Practitioners, Researchers, Medical Students

Learning Objectives:

1. Understand basic anatomy and physiology of the nail unit as it pertains to examination and diagnosis of ambiguous nail disorders.
2. Recognize indications for nail biopsy and confidently perform basic nail surgical procedures.
3. Identify and differentiate between benign and malignant nail tumors.

Date: Tuesday: March 6, 2018
Time: 8:00am to 9:00am
Where: Simches Research Center, 3rd Floor, Room 3110
185 Cambridge Street, Boston
Boston, MA 02114

Course Director, Stephen Ostrowski, MD, PhD Massachusetts General Hospital, Dermatology

The Harvard Medical School is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Harvard Medical School designates this live activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of participation in this activity.