James R. Holmes, MD, FAOA is an Associate Professor in the Department of Orthopedics at the University of Michigan. He currently serves as the Chief of Foot and Ankle section, the Associate Chair for Clinical Services, and Associate Residency Program Director.

Dr. Holmes graduated from the University of Wisconsin with an undergraduate degree in Physical Therapy and, after working several years in that field, elected to pursue a career in medicine. Upon completing an Orthopedic Residency at the University of Michigan, Dr. Holmes spent a fellowship year at the University of Washington focusing on foot and ankle reconstruction. After 18 years in private practice, he returned to the University of Michigan as a full time faculty member in 2009.

In addition to faculty participation in a variety of ongoing regional and national educational programs, Dr. Holmes has been privileged to serve in several administrative capacities over the last 2 decades, and currently is a member of the AAOS BOS Fellowship Committee, AAOS ICL Review Committee for Foot and Ankle, Managerial Board of Foot and Ankle International, ABOS oral examiner panel, and serves as the Chairman of the AOFAS Fellowship Committee.
