Catherine A. Logan, MD, MBA, MSPT is a sports medicine orthopaedic surgeon, as well as a former physical therapist and personal trainer, specializing in complex knee and shoulder surgery. After seven years in practice as a physical therapist, Dr. Logan began medical school at Tufts School of Medicine, while simultaneously earning her Master of Business Administration (MBA). After graduating and earning her MD and MBA, Dr. Logan stayed in Boston and completed her residency, matriculating to the Harvard Combined Orthopaedic Residency program followed by a sports medicine fellowship at the Steadman Philippon Research Institute/The Steadman Clinic in Vail, CO.

Dr. Logan is a team physician for the US Ski and Snowboard team and has cared for the team at competitions across Europe, as well as at the X-Games Aspen and the Burton US Open in Vail. In addition to her work with US Ski and Snowboard, Dr. Logan is Head League Physician for the Premier Lacrosse League (PLL), caring for the world’s most talented men’s lacrosse professionals on the sidelines and off the field.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, Dr. Logan led the PLL COVID Medical Committee to develop and execute the protocols that enabled the league to successfully return to play in a quarantined championship series in July 2020.
