

THE MAXWELL & ELEANOR BLUM PATIENT AND FAMILY LEARNING CENTER

MassGeneral Hospital for Children Parenting Series Back to School: How to Keep My Child Safe(r) During COVID-19

In this presentation, Dr. Vandana Madhavan will review the latest updates on COVID-19 infections in children and multisystem inflammatory syndrome in children (MIS-C). She will also discuss considerations surrounding transmission and infection prevention in schools and within families that have an impact on latest guidelines. There will be plenty of time for questions and answers.

This online program is free and open to MGH staff, patients, and the general public.

To attend this program, click on this link:

<https://partners.zoom.us/j/91944894064>

Date: Thursday, August 27, 2020

Time: 1:00 PM - 2:00 PM

Featured Speaker:

Vandana Madhavan, MD, MPH

Dr. Madhavan is the clinical director of the Pediatric Infectious Disease and also an attending physician in Pediatric Hospital Medicine and Pediatric Primary Care. She is also director of the Pediatric Advanced Clerkship at MassGeneral Hospital for Children.

For more information, call 617-724-7352 or email PFLC@partners.org

The MGHfC Parenting Series is a collaboration between the Maxwell & Eleanor Blum Patient and Family Learning Center and MassGeneral Hospital for Children.