

Alcohol Use Disorders in the United States: Where Are We? Where Are We Going?

Date: Thursday, April 11, 2024

Time: 12–1 pm (Eastern Time)

Alcohol-related harms in the United States have increased over the past decade, dramatically during the pandemic. Unhealthy alcohol use, including excessive alcohol use and alcohol use disorders, has significantly increased in all gender, racial/ethnic, and age groups. Alcohol-related healthcare utilization and deaths, including alcohol-associated liver disease, have exploded over the past decade, specifically driven by alcohol use disorders. In this talk, the shifting landscape of alcohol use disorders, its societal impact, and treatment strategies will be explored and discussed.

Featured Speaker: Gene Lambert, MD, MBA, FACP, FASAM

Dr. Lambert is medical director of Addiction Medicine at Mass General, a multidisciplinary team comprised of clinicians, social workers, and peer support specialists with lived experience that provides comprehensive and holistic care for hospitalized patients with complex substance use disorders. He is double board-certified in Internal Medicine and Addiction Medicine. Dr. Lambert is a fellow of the American College of Physicians and the American Society of Addiction Medicine.
