Choosing Birth Control That Works for You

Birth control can help treat heavy or painful periods. It can also help you control when and if you want to get pregnant. In this handout, you will learn about the different types of birth control that are available to you. You will also learn how your doctor can help you find a type of birth control that works for you.

WHAT IS BIRTH CONTROL?

Birth control is a type of medicine that can help treat heavy or painful periods. It can also help you control when and if you want to get pregnant.

WHY MIGHT I THINK ABOUT STARTING BIRTH CONTROL?

Everyone has a different reason for wanting to start birth control. Here are some common reasons:

- You have a lot of pain with your period.
- You have very heavy periods.
- Your period lasts longer than 7 days.
- You want to control when your period happens.
- You do not want to get pregnant right now.
- You do not want to get pregnant in the future.

WHO CAN I TALK TO IF I WANT TO START BIRTH CONTROL OR ASK QUESTIONS?

You can talk with your doctor if you want to start birth control or if you have questions.

WHERE CAN I LEARN MORE ABOUT THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF BIRTH CONTROL?

- Your doctor.

HOW DO I DECIDE WHICH TYPE OF BIRTH CONTROL IS RIGHT FOR ME?

You can talk with your doctor about the different types of birth control.

There are many types of birth control available to you. The type you choose depends on how often you want to take it. It also depends on the type you think will work best for you.

Did you know?

Birth control can make your blood more likely to clot, or form sticky clumps. People who have Down syndrome are a little more likely to develop blood clots.

If you want to start birth control, ask your doctor if you need to be careful about developing blood clots.

TYPES OF BIRTH CONTROL

The chart below shows the different types of birth control that might be available to you. Ask your doctor which of these types are right for you.
