Telemedicine in the Post-Pandemic Era: Where We Go From Here

Date: Monday, March 25, 2024

Time: 12–1 pm (Eastern Time)

In this presentation, we will discuss the major changes during the pandemic that have allowed us to widely use telemedicine. We will also discuss the current state of telehealth and what the future may hold. The conversation will center on ways to include telemedicine as part of an “omnichannel” healthcare experience across the care continuum.

Featured Speaker: Shinjita Das, MD, MPH

Dr. Das is a board-certified dermatologist (skin doctor) at Mass General and Assistant Professor in Dermatology at Harvard Medical School. As Technology Director for the MGH Department of Dermatology, she has spear-headed the expansion of the electronic consult program. Dr. Das leads and implements operational projects and patient education initiatives using technology-based solutions.
