

THE MAXWELL & ELEANOR BLUM PATIENT AND FAMILY LEARNING CENTER

Updates on Atopic Dermatitis: From Sunflower Oil to Dupilumab

Atopic dermatitis, commonly known as eczema, is a chronic itchy skin condition that affects 10-20% of the US population. In this talk, Dr. Jeff Yu will discuss the symptoms and causes of eczema. He will also cover treatment options ranging from alternative to conventional medical treatments. Whether you are a patient with eczema, a caregiver of someone with eczema, or someone interested in learning more about it, this talk will provide you with up-to-date information on this chronic condition.

This online program is free and open to MGH staff, patients, and the general public.
