

How to prepare for your MRI with anesthesia

Your doctor has recommended you have your MRI with anesthesia at Mass General. An MRI is a machine that takes detailed pictures of the inside of your body. After your MRI is complete, a radiologist will review it and will send a report to your doctor.

Please read this guide carefully. All instructions must be followed or your MRI may be canceled or delayed.

Pre-Procedure Evaluation (PPE) Phone Appointment

When the MRI administrative staff calls you to schedule your MRI, the staff member will also schedule a pre-procedure evaluation phone appointment. A nurse from the pre-procedure evaluation (PPE) office will call you prior to your MRI to ask you questions about your health and surgical history, the medications you take and where you check in. This phone call will take about 45 minutes.

- Please have a list of your medications with dosages available for this phone call.
- Please inform the PPE nurse if you have a disability and/or need special accommodations.

Write the date and time of your pre-procedure evaluation phone appointment:

Planning Ahead

- Plan who will be coming with you to the appointment. Family members or caregivers can stay with you until you receive anesthesia and fall asleep, and can be with you until you wake up in the Post Acute Care Unit (PACU).
- All patients must have a responsible adult escort to leave the hospital.
- Plan to give consent for anesthesia. You will need to sign a consent form before receiving anesthesia on the day of your MRI. If you are unable to give consent to receive anesthesia, your health care proxy or guardian will need to be available on the day of the MRI to provide consent. Consent can be obtained over the phone, or in person.

- Medication: Some patients feel nervous or restless while waiting at the hospital for the MRI to begin. If you need a prescription medication to reduce anxiety, please contact your Primary Care Physician. Plan to take the medication before arriving at the hospital. Hospital staff are not able to provide this medication.
- Service Animals: Please make arrangements for a responsible adult to care for the animal during your procedure.

The Night Before Your MRI with Anesthesia

- Do not eat or drink anything after midnight. Your stomach must be completely empty in order to have anesthesia.
- Pack things that will help you feel comfortable and relaxed. Please bring any items from home that will help you feel comfortable while waiting for your MRI appointment (i.e. tablet or laptop, games, book or magazines).
- You will be changed into a hospital gown. If you have difficulty wearing a hospital gown (i.e. if you are very sensitive to textures), you should wear a loose fitting cotton t-shirt and pants with an elastic waistband. To be safe for the MRI, do not wear clothing with any metal or fasteners, such as metal snaps, zippers, or anything with metal fibers.
